

This map illustrates the Occitanie region, a large administrative area in the south of France. It is bordered by Nouvelle-Aquitaine to the west, Auvergne-Rhône-Alpes to the east, and Andorra and Spain to the south. The region is divided into several administrative departments, each color-coded: Aude (pink), Gard (orange), Hérault (light green), Lot (yellow), Lot-et-Garonne (light blue), Pyrénées-Orientales (light green), Tarn (yellow), Tarn-et-Garonne (light blue), and Haute-Garonne (light green). Major cities are marked with black dots, including Toulouse (the capital, marked with a red star), Montpellier, Nîmes, Albi, Carcassonne, and Béziers. The map also shows numerous smaller towns and villages, as well as the extensive network of roads and highways. The Garonne river and other water bodies are depicted in blue. The map is a detailed representation of the region's geography and administrative structure.
