

A detailed map of the autonomous community of Cantabria, Spain, illustrating its 69 municipalities. The map uses a color-coded system where different colors represent various comarcas or historical regions. Major geographical features include the Bay of Biscay to the north, the Cantabrian Mountains to the east, and the Ebro Reservoir (Embalse del Ebro) in the south. Neighboring regions are labeled as Asturias to the west and Castilla y León to the south and east. The capital city, Santander, is marked with a red star. The map also shows several rivers and coastal areas.