

This map of Idaho displays its county boundaries and names, major cities, and transportation infrastructure. The state is bordered by Montana to the north and Utah to the south. Major cities include Boise (the capital, marked with a red star), Idaho Falls, Pocatello, Rexburg, and Twin Falls. The map shows a network of highways, including Interstate 84 (red line) and various state routes (orange lines). The map is color-coded by county, with each county having a unique color. The map also shows the locations of several airports, including Mountain Home AFB and Boise.