

A map of North Dakota with its 53 counties labeled. Major cities are marked with dots, and the state capital, Bismarck, is marked with a red star. The map includes geographical features like the Missouri River to the west and the Minnesota border to the east. The counties are color-coded in a repeating pattern of light blue, light green, and light orange. The names of the counties are: Divide, Burke, Renville, Bottineau, Rolette, Cavalier, Pembina, Williams, Mountrail, Ward, McHenry, Benson, Ramsey, Walsh, McKenzie, Dunn, Mercer, McLean, Sheridan, Wells, Eddy, Nelson, Grand Forks, Billings, Manning, Oliver, Center, Stanton, Washburn, Fessenden, New Rockford, Carrington, Foster, Griggs, Steele, Traill, Golden Valley, Dickinson, Stark, Burleigh, Kidder, Stutsman, Barnes, Cass, Slope, Amidon, Hettinger, Adams, Grant, Morton, Mandan, Steele, Jamestown, Valley City, Fargo, Bowman, Carson, Linton, Emmons, Logan, LaMoure, Ransom, Sargent, Richland, Dickey, Ellendale, Forman, and Wahpeton.