

This map displays the 39 counties of Washington state, each labeled with its name. Major cities and towns are indicated by black dots, while the state capital, Olympia, is marked with a red star. The map includes geographical features such as the Puget Sound, Strait of Juan de Fuca, and various rivers. The surrounding states, Oregon and Idaho, are shown in light gray. The map is color-coded by county: blue for coastal and western counties, orange for central and eastern counties, and green for southern and mountain counties.
