

This map of Montana displays its county boundaries and major urban centers. The state capital, Helena, is marked with a red star. Major interstate highways are shown as red lines, while other roads are yellow. Water bodies, including Lake Superior and Lake Yellowstone, are depicted in blue. The map also shows the state's borders with Idaho to the west and Wyoming to the south. Key cities labeled include Helena, Billings, Bozeman, Butte, Missoula, Great Falls, and many others. Highway numbers are indicated in small boxes along the roads.