

This map illustrates the Cariri region in the state of Rio Grande do Norte, Brazil. The region is characterized by a high density of municipalities, each represented by a colored polygon and labeled with its name. Major cities, such as Patos, São Bento, and João Pessoa, are highlighted with larger text and red stars. The map also shows the extensive network of federal roads (BR-116, BR-226, BR-405, BR-427, BR-104, BR-101, BR-232, BR-110, BR-412, BR-408) and the surrounding states of Ceará to the west, Pernambuco to the south, and Paraíba to the east. The Rio Grande do Norte state name is prominently displayed in the center of the map.