

This map of Washington state provides a comprehensive overview of its geography and urban landscape. Key features include:

- Geography: The map shows the state's coastline along the Pacific Ocean to the west, with numerous islands and bays. Major river systems, including the Columbia, Cowlitz, and Snake, are depicted. The state is divided into counties, each color-coded for identification.
- Urban Centers: Major cities are marked with black dots and labeled, including Seattle, Tacoma, Olympia, Everett, and Spokane. Smaller towns and cities are also labeled throughout the state.
- Transportation: Major highways are shown as red lines, with route numbers (e.g., 101, 5, 2, 97, 82, 395, 12) displayed in blue boxes. Waterways are shown as blue lines.
- Neighboring States: The map includes labels for Oregon to the south and Idaho to the east, indicating the state's location within the Pacific Northwest.
- Special Markers: A red star is placed over Olympia, highlighting its location relative to other major cities.
