

The map illustrates the Comarca de Campos and Cabuérniga, a region in northern Spain. It is bordered by Asturias to the west, Baskien to the east, and Kastilien och León to the south. The region is characterized by a network of roads, including the A-8, A-67, N-621, N-623, and N-629. Major urban centers like Santander, Camargo, Piélagos, and Torrelavega are highlighted. The Ebro Reservoir (Embalse del Ebro) is a prominent feature in the southern part of the region. The map also shows various smaller towns and villages, such as Santa Cruz de Bezana, Suances, Polanco, Reocín, Cabezón de la Sal, Mazcuerras, Rionansa, Cillorigo de Liebana, Potes, Reinosa, and Castro-Urdiales.