

A detailed map of North Dakota, showing its county boundaries and major cities. The state is colored in a light blue hue. Major cities are marked with black dots and labeled: Williston, Minot, Grand Forks, Dickinson, Bismarck (marked with a red star), Jamestown, Valley City, West Fargo, and Fargo. The map also shows the Red River forming the border with Minnesota to the east. Major highways are indicated by numbered lines: 2, 52, 81, 83, 85, 94, and 281. Other geographical features include the Missouri River along the western border and the Great Plains region. The map is oriented with North at the top.